Monday, April 21*st*, 1746. [Numb. 630]

LONDON, December 19.

Extract of a Letter from a Lady at Preston, to her Friend in Town, written while the Rebels were there.

YESTERDAY the whole Army re-entered our Town, all sufficiently wearied, and out of Humour enough. There are with 'em 4 Ladies, who seem to be of some Distinction; Lady Ogilvie, Mrs Murray, Jenny Cameron, and another, whose Name I could not learn; but they say she is the Mistress of one McSheridan, a Popish Priest. The Two first were in a Chariot by themselves; the other Two in a Coach and six, with the young Pretender and McSheridan; who, it seems, is called the Archbishop of Canterbury. — This young Pretender seem'd very faint and sick, and is very assiduously ministred unto by Jenny Cameron O Sullivan, one of the young Pretender's Council, and a very likely Fellow, made free with our House; and we were under a Necessity to treat him civilly. He return'd it obligingly enough; from him we learnt some little Anecdotes relating to Jenny Cameron She is, it seems, the Niece of some Person of Fashion in the Highlands; and was sent by her Uncle to pay his Compliments to the young Pretender, on his March from Lochaber to Perth. She brought with her a considerable Quantity of Cattle, some Usquebaugh, and other little Presents. When she appear'd before the young Pretender's Tent, who receiv'd her very gallantly, she jump'd off her Horse, and told him with great Frankness, That she came like the Queen of Sheba, to partake of the Wisdom of Solomon: He answered, and thou shalt, my Dear, partake of all that Solomon is Master of. He took her in his Arms, and retired with her into his Tent, and were there some Time alone; the rest, Mr Sullivan says, we are to guess. This wild Rabble made no long Stay here, nor I dare say, will ever come back again They look all like hunted Hares, and had rather hear the Name of the Devil than of the Duke; but don't seem to mind any Body else in particular. They are marched, or rather gone off, in a very unaccountable Manner; galloping, trotting, and running, and, as we say, bidding the Devil take the Hindmost

London, Jan. 2. 'Tis said, that the Fortifications of Berwick, Carlisle, and Tinmouth Fort, will be immediately put into thoro' Repair, and some new Works added to them, as they are Places of the utmost Consequences to England.

'Tis also said, that some skilful Engineers will be obliged once in two or three Years to visit all the Fortifications in England, especially those on the Sea Coasts, to see what Reparations or Augmentations may be necessary, and make a Report thereof, that Provision may be made for such Services.

Jan. 4. One of the Cruizers under the Command of Admiral Vernon, has sunk a large French Sloop Privateer, within a Quarter of a Mile of Boulogne.

The Amazon and Jamaica Men of War, on the 27th past, took a French Privateer from Granville, that had been out but 3 Days, and carried her into Mountsbay; she mounts 16 Guns, and had 105 Men.

Jan. 7. This Morning came on the Trial of Admiral Lestock, on board the Prince of Orange Man of War at Deptford.

There is Advice by the last Dutch Mail, that 200 Protestants in the Province of Languedoc in France, having assembled in the Fields, to serve God in that peaceable Religion in which they were bred, they were suddenly surrounded by a large Body of Dragoons, who massacred 30 of them on the Spot, and made the rest Prisoners, 70 of whom have since been sent to the Gallies, and the rest hourly expect the same Fate.

Jan. 9. We are inform'd, that as soon as the Pretender came to Glasgow, he sent for the Provost of that City, and demanded of him the Names of those who had subscribed for raising Troops against him, threatening to hang him immediately in case of a Refusal, to which the Provost bravely and boldly replied, "He "would not give up the Name of one Person in the Town; but "that he had himself subscribed a greater Sum than any other "Person, as he thought it his Duty; and he fear'd not to die in "such a Cause, &c.

We hear that 16,000 Hanoverians, 10,000 Austrians, and 6000 Hessians, will be taken into the Pay of Great Britain

We hear that there is a Treaty going forward by the Maritime Powers and Allies, to bring into the Field in the Spring 120,000 effective Men, who are chiefly to be employed in Flanders, whilst another very considerable Army is to penetrate into Alsace, &c.

Jan. 14. We are inform'd, that his Excellency Baron De Boetzelaer, who was sent over hither to execute a Commission of great Importance, on the Part of their High Mightinesses the States General, will shortly return home, having happily succeeded in his Negociation.

We have been likewise informed, that the Right Honourable the Lord Tyrawley will speedily set out for Berlin, in order to execute a Commission of the utmost Consequence to the Tranquility of Europe, on the Part of his Britannick Majesty

Some private Letters from the Hague intimate, that the last Dispatches from M. Van Hoey, had given their High Mightinesses such an Idea of the Disposition of the Court of France, as is likely to produce a Declaration of War.

An Account of Mr Sullivan, whom the London Gazette of the 19th past mentions to have Care of the Artillery.

From the True Patriot

"THE principal Person upon whom the Pretender's Son hath "depended upon in this Expedition, is one Sullivan; he "is by Birth an Irishman, and was educated in a Romish College "abroad, where he entered into Priests Orders. He had after- "wards the Fortune to be recommended to Marshal Maillebois, "by whom he was retained as a Domestick Tutor to his Son. "The Marshal perceiving in him some Symptoms of a Genius "better adapted to the Sword than to the Gown, encouraged "him rather to apply himself to the Former than the latter "Profession, which he did with such Success, that having at- "tended his Master to Corsica, when the French undertook to de- "prive those poor People of their Liberties he acted as his Se- "cretary. The Marshal, who was a bon Vivant, and used con- "stantly to get drunk every Day after Dinner, was almost inca- "pable of Business the greater part of the 24 Hours; during all "which Time the whole Power devolved on Sullivan, who "executed it in such a Manner as to do great Honour both to "himself and his Master; having here gained a very high mili- "tary Reputation, as well as much Knowledge in what is cal- "led the Art of making irregular War He afterwards served "two Campaigns, one in Italy, the other on the Rhine; in which "latter Campaign a French General giving a Character of him "said, that he understood the irregular Art of War better than "any Man in Europe; nor was his Knowledge in the regular "most inferior to that of the best General To the Abilities of "this Man we may justly attribute the Success with which a "Handful of Banditti have so long been able to over run and "plunder a great part of this opulent and powerful Nation

"We shall take the Liberty here to hazard another Remark, which is, that it would not be difficult to find many Masters of Arts in England, equal at least to this of Ireland; but if new Ser-

there to be Regarded, and only what is called the regular Art of War observed, against an Enemy who is ready to take Advantage of every Method, what can be expected, but a protracted War, Disappointments, Miscarriages, and, instead of Saving, an Accumulation of Expence. —— Guns were not long since a new Device, and consequently then Irregular.

EDINBURGH, Febr 5 The Arch of Stirling Bridge, that had been broke down by General Blakeney's Order, was repaired by 6 o'Clock Yesterday Morning with Timber (mostly provided by the Rebels for the same Purpose) and that Day the Army pass'd over the Bridge. The advanc'd Guard, consisting of the Argyleshire Highlanders, and the Dragoons, went on to Crief, and the Foot were quarter'd at and about Dumblain, where his Royal Highness the Duke of Cumberland lay last Night, and this Night his Royal Highness intended to lie at Crief, and to order his advanc'd Guard to take Possession of Perth, where he intends to be To morrow.

The Rebels in their Retreat, or rather Flight, divided, Part of them, supposed to be the Clans with the Pretender's Son, took the Road by Tarbridge, and it is said, are to retire to Lochaber; the other Part of them, Lord Lewis Gordon's Men, their Low Country Foot with all their Horse, got to Perth on Sunday. On Monday they began their March from thence further North, and Tuesday they had all evacuated Perth, and are said to have taken the Road to Montrose, and to have carried along with them 4 Pieces of small Brass Cannon. Before the Rebels left Perth, they set at Liberty the Sailors of the Hazard Snow, who were Prisoners there, but it is believed they carried Capt. Hill the Commander of the said Snow, and the other Prisoners of Distinction they had at Stirling, along with them.

The Hazard Snow sailed from Montrose on the 27th of January, and is supposed to be gone Northwards, to take up the Pretender's Son somewhere, possibly about the Place he landed.

It is reported, that one or two more French Ships have lately arrived, with Money and Military Stores, at Peterhead; of which, and the Flight of the Rebels towards the East Coast, Intelligence has been to Admiral Byng.

From the LONDON GAZETTE Extraordinary, Feb 13.

Perth, Febr. 8. His Royal Highness the Duke has been here ever since the 6th Instant, and we are employed in laying in our Magazine of Bread and Forage. Two Detachments of 500 Men Foot each have been sent forward, one to Dunkeld, under the Command of Lt. Col. Sir Andrew Agnew, with 120 Argyleshire Men added thereto; the other under the Command of Lt Col. Leighton, to Castle Menzie, a Mile on the other Side of Tay-Bridge. The Rest of the Army remains here, in order to rest the Regiments of Foot, after the great Fatigues they had undergone.

All the Irish and Scotch, who came from France, are gone off to Montrose, under the Command of the Person stiling himself Lord John Drummond. The Hazard Snow is gone North about, in order, as is supposed, to carry off the Pretender's Son; who, according to our best Information, lay on Thursday Night last at Blair of Athol, with a Body of the Rebels, not amounting, by their own Account, to 1500 Men, though it be the greatest Number they have any where together.

Edinburgh, Febr 8, Five in the Afternoon. This Moment the Prince of Hesse Cassel, and the Earl of Crawford, with the Hessians, are safely arrived in the Road of Leith. They came from Wildemsbad on Tuesday last, and have had a very good Passage. The Troops will remain on board 'till his Royal Highness the Duke of Cumberland's Pleasure is known, to whom an Express is dispatch'd to Perth, where his Highness was on the 6th, with Notice of their Arrival. In the mean while Preparations are making for the Reception of the Prince of Hesse, and Bread and Forage are providing for the Troops. Admiral Byng is cruizing off Montrose with some Men of War, as is Captain Balfour off Peterhead. About 14 Days ago, a Spanish Privateer arrived in the Port of this last Place, with about 9 Ton of Gunpowder, 3 Chests of Money, and several Chests of small Arms on board, all which were presently landed, and the Money and Powder were conducted to Montrose by a Party of the Rebels. Captain Balfour has since taken the above Privateer, but not being able to get her out of the said Port, on Account of her being nipped by the Tides, he proposes to burn her.

(So far from the London Gazette Extraordinary.)

LONDON, February 19.

Letters from Scotland Yesterday mention, that the Duke of Perth, and about 500 of his Party, were taken by the Argyleshire Highlanders; and that a Man of War was sent by Admiral Byng in Quest of the Hazard Snow.

On the Highlanders Manner of valuing Money.
A Scotch Equivalent.

"LEND's a Tester, cries the Loon;
"I'se pay ye aw, as I'm a Scot,
"When gude Keng Jammy gets the Croon ——
"We'll strike the Bargain with a Pot.
So Six Pence dry, and Six Pence spent,
Paid when Two Sundays come together,
Is deem'd a Scotch Equivalent,
And no gude Bargain reckon'd neither.

CHARLES-TOWN, April 22.
